Cindy Sherman (born 1954 in Glen Ridge, New Jersey, USA) has had a lasting influence on the art of the 20th century through her photographs. Just like an actress, she portrays herself in different roles in front of the camera. Although they are self-portraits of Sherman in the classic sense, they do not significantly reveal anything about the artist's personality. Instead she is concerned with the deconstruction of gender roles and stereotypes.
